*The intention is to issue this series in the form of hand-books, which may be read in the study, the class-room or the fields. Each work will be the history of a Great Artist, or a brief History of a group of Artists of one school; and will contain Portraits of the Masters, and as many examples of their art as can be readily procured.

Great care has been bestowed on the ornamentation of the BINDING. The design, by an unknown artist, is copied from the title-page of a TERENCE, published in Venice in 1499. The "end papers" lining the insides of the cover are reproductions of a drawing for Italian lace.

Midsummer Holiday

It will contain the beginning of a new story by Henry James, Jr., a frontispiece portrait of Whittier, Engravings of Whistler's paintings and etchings, sketches by Warner and Stockton, poems by Dr. Holland, Mrs. Dodge, Celia Thaxter, and others, etc., etc. Price, 35 cents.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"Of the PORTFOLIO altogether it is to be said, that not only is it the first periodical in the English language devoted to fine art, but that it leads all others by a very great distance, whatever the second and third of such publications may be taken to be."

"We would regard the introduction of such a journal into the family as a good educator, while it will prove a source of exquisite pleasure to those who have already a taste for the beautiful."—N. Y. Observer.

"Of the Etchings the merits are unquestionable; indeed, the work is enriched with some of the finest examples. The literary part is generally worthy of praise for being scholarly, graceful, and interesting."—Athenæum.

EXTRACT FROM THE PREFACE.—"My object in this work has been to present, in a clear, logical, and, if possible, attractive form, the fundamental facts connected with our perception of color, so far as they are at present known, or concern the general or artistic reader. . . . It has been my endeavor also to present, in a simple and comprehensive manner, the underlying facts upon which the artistic use of color necessarily depends."
